Internship Program - Police Station Visit by Students (11th Aug to 2nd Sept, 2016)

Legal education is not limited to classroom teaching only but needs to be augmented by real life experiences. The traditional legal education has undergone paradigm shifts. Now the traditional classroom teaching has been supplemented by clinical methods of learning. In addition to this Bar Council of India has also introduced Internship programme for the law students. As per BCI Part IV, Schedule III, Rule 25 Internship program is made compulsory for law students. Internship programme gives an opportunity to the students to put the theoretical foundations of law into practice. Its aim is to acquaint the students about the procedural aspects of law, and to make them familiar with the Court environment.

Along with the Courts, students should get exposure of all the institutions where there is application of law. A visit to the institutions where law is in action is a must. Police organization is important functionaries responsible for maintenance of law and order in the society. It contributes remarkably in criminal administration of justice. As far as the law students are concerned they should know the working and functioning of police administration. Considering this aspect of practical training, Police Station Visit was organized.
